

JULIA ENCKE works for „Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung“ as the literary director and editor of the newspaper’s Sunday edition. After studying literature in Freiburg, Toulouse, and Munich, she did her doctoral research on the sensory perception of the First World War. She is the author of a book on Michel Houellebecq („Wer ist Michel Houellebecq? Porträt eines Provokateurs“, Rowohlt Berlin). She lives in Berlin.